PREUS IS REPUBLICAN NOMINEE FOR SENATE

WITH ONE-THIRD OF VOTE COUNTED,
RUN FAVORS HIM

THOUGH FIGHT WITH FARMER-
LABOR FORCES ANTICIPATED
IN ELECTION COMING

WET VOTE ACCORDED FRITSCH WAS SURPRISING IN DRY
MINNESOTA

(By United Press)
St. Paul, June 19.—Governor
J. A. O. Preus, Magnus Johnson and James A. Carley are the party nominees in Minnesota's special senatorial primary.

With about one-third of the total vote counted early today indications were that the governor would take the republican nomination by a margin of around 30,000 votes.

Magnus Johnson, Kimball farmer, with a lighter vote in the farmer-
labor primary than was anticipated, will probably win that party's endorsement by around 18,000. L. A.
Fritsche, mayor of New Ulm and wet candidate, ran better than was expected in dry Minnesota.

State Senator James A. Carley, endorsed by the democratic central committee, will take the democratic nomination over Francis L. Cary, Minneapolis attorney, by a 4 to 1 vote.

The vote now stands Preus 32,900;
Hallam 21,792 in the tabulated
count, and Thomas D. Schall, Minneapolis, had a total of 18,123 votes
—considered surprisingly high.

Magnus Johnson, in the tabulations at 7:30, had a lead of over 5, 000 over L. A. Fritsche, his wet opponent. The vote was Johnson 18, 349, Fritsche 13,540. The remaining territory to be heard from was considered Johnson ground.

The total primary vote apparently will be less than 400,000. The total possible vote is around 775, 000 in the state's 3,473 precincts.
Supporters of Judge Oscar Hallam conceded the republican nomination to Governor Preus at an early hour this morning. Judge Hallam had hoped for a big vote in the primary to win the nomination. He was so confident of receiving a big vote that he resigned his position as associate justice of the state supreme court to enter the race.

Charles W. Sterling, member of the State Railroad and Warehouse Commission and appointee of Governor Preus, resigned his post to manage Judge Hallam's campaign. Had Hallam won the senatorship it is thought Sterling planned to run for governor next year.

Many interesting things were revealed by the primary. First of all, the three farmer-labor candidates attracted only a very light vote compared with the huge poll given Dr.
Henrik Shipstead as head of the party ticket last fall when he was elected to the United States senate by a huge plurality over Frank B. Kellogg, administration favorite.

Magnus Johnson, who ran close to Preus last fall for the governor-ship, had a vote in that race of 295, 479 against a Preus vote of 309,
796. Neither will have anything like those totals in the primary.
Johnson lost much more ground in the primary than Preus, apparently.
His friends account for this by the fact that the farmers are busy in the fields and that the storm Sunday made travel difficult in sections where Johnson was believed strongest. These factors deterred voters.

Should Governor Preus be elected
July 16, he will, of course, resign
the governorship, and Lieutenant Governor Louis L. Collins, "little corporal of the 151st," will assume the duties of the chief state executive. He then will likely seek election to the post next year.

If Governor Preus is defeated in the election next month, he probably will remain governor until the next general election and then seek election to the seat of the late Senator Nelson, his political godfather.

BOY SCOUTS WERE MAROONED ON ISLAND

(By United Press)
Fremont, Neb., June 19.—Twenty-three Boy Scouts from 10 to 18 years old were marooned on Fremont Island southwest of here when the bridge connecting the island with the mainland was swept away by floods.
The boys' food supply is said to be meager and attempts are being made to get supplies out to the camp.

REPORTED CURE FOR PARALYSIS ANNOUNCED

Vienna, June 19.—Dr. Wagner Juareg, famous specialist, announced at the annual meeting of the Association of Vienna Physicians yesterday that he had healed 299 out of 300 cases of syphilitic paralysis, hitherto considered incurable. His treatment is an inoculation with malaria fever germs, and after the patient has suffered from mild malaria for a fortnight he is inoculated with neosalvarsan. He had one death in 300 patients.

senatorial fight in Minnesota, it was reliably stated today.

The present administration leaders in the United States senate feel that the nomination of Governor Preus was timely and that it will save the seat of the late Senator Nelson for the administration.

A tough fight with farmer-labor forces who took away one administration seat last election by electing Dr. Henrik Shipstead to the place of Frank B. Kellogg is anticipated.
Johnson, running mate of Shipstead last fall, is virtually certain of the farmer-labor nomination in the senatorial primary. Dr. L. A. Fritsche, wet candidate, however, was holding up at noon in tabulations, and although trailing Johnson by more than 5,000 votes he refused to concede defeat.

The wet vote accorded Fritsche was surprising in dry Minnesota.
Out of 1063 precincts tabulated at noon, Johnson had 23,576 and Fritsche 18,429. C. A. Lindbergh of Little Falls trailed with 6,520.

The republican vote in the state indicated that Governor Preus will carry the primary by a majority of around 30,000 or more. It may go as high as 40,000. A total of 1267 precincts gave Preus 36,093; Judge Oscar Hallam 24,414, and Congressman Thomas D. Schall, Minneapolis, 19,132. Some quarters predicted Schall would pass Hallam and the later would finish third. Schall's showing to say the least, was surprising to political prognosticators.

Sydney Anderson, Third District
congressman, lead the second division of republican candidates with 8,768 votes in 1951 precincts. Others trailed as follows: Victor Power 6, 551; J. A. A. Burnquist 4,270, Halvor Steenerson 1,104; Ernest C. A.
Lundeen 3,572; John J. Martin 312.
In the democratic primary State Senator James A. Carley was assured the nomination by a 4 to 1 vote over his only opponent. The vote in 1955 precincts was Carley 4055, Cary 1, 087.

Preus Increases His Lead
St. Paul, June 19.—Governor J. A.
O. Preus steadily increased his margin over Judge Oscar Hallam for the republican senatorial nomination as returns came in from county auditors throughout the state this afternoon.

The governor at 2 p. m. held an advantage of more than 15,000 over his nearest opponent out of eight candidates for the republican endorsement. In 1642 precincts, representing half the total vote cast,
the vote stood: Preus 49,321, Hallam 25,237.

The same precincts gave Congressman T. D. Schall 21,098.
In 1559 precincts Congressman
Sydney Anderson had 11,228, Victor
L. Power 11,714, Halvor Steenerson
2,907.

Magnus Johnson continued to increase his lead over L. A. Fritsche for the farmer-labor nomination. In 1559 precincts the vote stood Johnson 31,588, Fritsche 24,103, Lindbergh 9,756.

NATIONAL WHEAT
IN CHICAGO TODAY

500 DELEGATES PRESENT TO AT-TEMPT TO "PUT KING WHEAT
BACK ON THRONE"

FARMERS, BANKERS, MILLERS,
MEN, ETC. THERE

(By United Press)
Chicago, June 19.—The first national wheat conference of 500 delegates opened here today to "put King Wheat back on his throne."

Farmers, bankers, millers, grain dealers, implement manufacturers and representatives of transportation interests gathered with the avowed intention of increasing prices the farmer receives for his wheat.

With weather in the grain belt giving promise of good crops in most sections and prices on grain slumping heavily, the problem was declared by leaders at the meeting to be a difficult one.

Governors of seven states, headed by J. A. O. Preus, Minnesota, today entered the conference to aid the producer.

Governor Preus delivered the opening address of the conference. Other speakers listed included Senator Arthur Capper, Kansas, leader of the farm "bloc" in Congress; F. F. White, president of Armour & Company Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; Alexander Logg, president of the International Harvester company; Senator-elect Royal S. Copeland, New York; and Dr. Alonzo E. Taylor, director of the Food Research Institute at Leland Stanford university. The delegates here represent 200 agricultural, and manufacturing interests.

Bankers of Chicago and other financial centers of the country are to be asked to co-operate with Minneapolis bankers in assisting in the war on "black rust" which is threatening the entire wheat crop in the Northwest.

Speakers declared that the ravages of black rust could only be combated by private enterprise. The disease has been fought by state interests alone in the past.

Today's speakers asserted that with a surplus of 170,000,000 bushels of wheat and a bumper crop, many farmers will be forced to abandon their farms because the margin of profit as present prices is not sufficient to afford a living.

Scores Chicago Board of Trade

Chicago, June 19.—The Chicago Board of Trade has become the world's greatest gambling place and works against the interests of both producer and consumer, Senator Arthur Capper, Kansas, told five hundred delegates to the national wheat conference here today. The conference is being held to devise a way of increasing wheat prices.

"By operating 'bears' on the market prices were adjusted to bring a profit to the speculator at the expense of the man who grew the grain and the man who really consumes it," Casper declared.

"In the famous May squeeze of a year ago a few speculators cleaned up more than $2,000,000 within 24 hours through operations on the Board of Trade. That two million was more by far than what the farmers of Kansas were paid for their entire crop."

Senator Capper favors an organization for co-operative wheat marketing.

"Our present system of distribution is the most expensive of any country on earth. When the consumer buys a dollar's worth of farm products, less than 30 cents of the consumer's dollar reaches the farmer," he asserted.

"When a real co-operative marketing association such as that used by raisin, cotton and tobacco growers has been formed, producers will be

FORD DECLARES
HE WILL NOT MAKE
PRESIDENCY RACE

Springfield, Mass., June 19.—"I have no desire to be president of the United States," said Henry Ford, while stopping over the week end here on his way from Providence, R.
I., to Poughkeepsie, N. Y. "I am too much occupied with my own affairs to become the next president, and I do not intend to run. All this you hear about my name being associated with the presidency is newspaper talk. There is nothing to it."

JOHN T. ADAMS AS NATIONAL CHAIRMAN

WILL MANAGE THE PRESIDENT
HARDING'S CAMPAIGN IN 1924

(Copyright 1923 by United Press)
Washington, June 19.—John T.
Adams, successor as chairman of the republican national committee, will be picked for the chairmanship after President Harding returns from his forthcoming western trip.

Mr. Harding in person will select him. The new chairman will manage Harding's campaign in 1924.
Mr. Harding in his next campaign will be governed largely by the view of republican leaders in the west and midwest who will meet him on his tour.

Mr. Adams will remain as head of the committee until the republican convention of 1924, in spite of continued efforts to force him out before then. Then the president can settle any misunderstanding that exists between him and Adams on the world court, he pointed out, and the committee organization can function without change until the end of its term.

The 1924 campaign will center around the farmers. Third party talk centers in the farming regions,
and constitutes the greatest danger, republican leaders agree. The west and midwest, therefore will provide a 1924 campaign manager.

Mr. Harding wants to get matters settled to everybody's satisfaction
long enough in advance of the convention to avoid friction then. He will talk to national committeemen,
state chairmen and other party leaders, who will meet his train on his trip through the west, most of them bringing claims of candidates for the chairmanship.

CONGRESSIONAL RACE

(By United Press)
Kalamazoo, Mich., June 19.—A light vote was being cast in the Third District Congressional race today, with the early vote indicating a close race between Claude Curney, democrat, and A. B. Williams, republican.

United States Senator W. T. Ferriss, democrat, who carried 4 out of 5 counties in the district in the senatorial election, campaigned for Curney. Williams made his race on the strength of his record during the Harding administration.

on such a basis that a surplus could be handled in a more intelligent way."

Capper's suggestion for a co-operative marketing association for wheat growers was endorsed by Governor J. A. O. Preus, Minnesota, chief spokesman of the conference,
and Governor Jonathan Davis, Kansas.

"I want the farmers to have intelligent marketing, and this can be brought about in no better way than through a co-operative marketing association," Governor Preus said in his opening address.

"The farmer must be helped. My suggestion is co-operative marketing association," Governor Davis said after the address by Governor Preus.
Sydney Anderson, congressman from Minnesota was elected permanent chairman of the conference.

THE SMILING, BLUE-
EYED GIRL BANDIT WAS IDENTIFIED

MISS FRANCES THOMPSON TAK-EN IN CUSTODY BY CHICAGO
POLICE

CLAIMED SHE MAY HAVE KILLED
RICHARD C. TESMER AT HIS
GOLD COAST HOME

(By United Press)
Chicago, June 19.—Miss Frances Thompson, alias Fred G.
Thompson, was identified today
as the "smiling blue-eyed girl bandit" who killed Richard C.
Tesmer at his Gold Coast home,
Chief of Detectives Michael Hughes announced today.

Police said that Frances is abnormal and that she sometimes poses as a man and some times a woman.
Tesmer's widow made the identification at the Tesmer home, Hughes said. The alleged "girl bandit" was also known as Frances Carriek, police asserted.

The "girl", dressed in feminine attire, was arrested late yesterday in her north side apartment here by a police squad headed by Sergeant William Cusack. A man who gave his name as John Doe and a woman who calls herself Marie Clark were also found at the apartment.

When arrested, the girl was dressed in a pretty black-beaded dress, satin pumps and black silk stockings.
When the police appeared, she said:
"Well, I suppose you want me for the Tesmer murder?"

"What do you know about the Tesmer murder?" countered Cusack.
"Well, you don't want me," she is quoted as replying, "the girl you want is a blonde." A previous description given the police was that the slayer of Tesmer was a blonde.
Then Hughes took her before the widow.

Tesmer was shot to death during a robbery at the Tesmer home. Mrs.
Tesmer and he had just driven their car up to the garage when a girl with a male companion held them up. Mrs. Tesmer became hysterical when the robber demanded her wedding ring and Tesmer moved as if to console her.

The girl, who held the gun on the couple, giggled and shot Tesmer without warning. The "woman" identified today has feminine features.

Swords and Fish.

Indians still spear fish on some Canadian rivers with the old-fashioned trident. But in Haiti the natives use a machete, as their huge sword-like knife is called. The waters abound along the Haitian coast in mullet, mackerel, kingfish, cardines, red snappers, white fish, and many other varieties of excellent food fish, the common method of fishing by the natives is that practiced at night—by the means of a torch and a sharp machete.
The light dazes the fish and the expert native kills it with his instrument.

BUCKET SHOP MEN WILL GO TO PRISON

(By United Press)
New York, June 19.—Edward Fuller and E. M. McGee, of the bankrupt "bucket shop" firm of E. M.
Fuller & Company, were sentenced today by Judge Mott in general session to state prison for from a year and three months to four years.

Judge Mott, in sentencing the brokers, said he was being lenient because of their alleged poverty and because they had pleaded guilty to bucketing.

STOCK BROKERS
FOUND GUILTY

(By United Press)
Chicago, June 19.—Fred L. Kribel, president of Kribel & Company,
stock brokers, and Henry Tomeroy,
New York agent of the firm, were found guilty of using the mails to defraud by a hearing in federal court here today.

The two defendants were found guilty on each of four counts, three charging use of the mails to defraud and the fourth conspiring to defraud through the mails.

CEMENT SURVEY
BEGINS WEDNESDAY

St. Paul, June 19.—Survey of the state's resources in limestone, marl
and other materials used in making cement will be made by the special interim commission on a state cement plant, which was called yesterday to meet Wednesday at 10 a. m. at the state capital. The call was issued by Senator Mike Boylan of Virginia, who was chairman of a similar commission two years ago. It made a preliminary survey, but was hampered by lack of funds.

The last legislature appropriated $10,000 for the use of the new commission. It consists of Elias Nordgren, North Branch, former representative, named by Governor J. A. O.
Preus; Senators Mike Boylan of Virginia and Ewen W. Cameron of Minneapolis, named by Lieutenant Governor Louis L. Collins; Representative Carl M. Iverson, Ashby, and Frank E. Nimocks, Minneapolis, appointed by Speaker W. I. Nolan.

The commission will organize on Wednesday and make plans for its work. It is probable that the survey also will locate bodies of gravel suitable for surfacing roads.

Filipino Women.

Filipinos have some customs which seem queer to us. A woman does not drive a horse or automobile, or ride a bicycle. She may wish to be a nurse, but men and boys occupy this field.
She can do fine embroidery, but the men design the patterns. Yet twice the percentage of Filipino women are earning their living in comparison with Canadian women. Co-education exists throughout the islands.

Dark Beaver Fur Most Valuable.

The darkest and handsomest deep ebony-brown beaver fur is found along the south shore of Lake Superior. It is worth several times as much as the paler varieties from the Western and Southern states.

FIVE AVALANCHES
OF LAVA POURING FROM OLD ETNA

TEN LITTLE TOWNSHIPS HAVE BEEN SEARED INTO OBLI-VION

FRESH EXPLOSIONS AND TREM-ORS SHAKING BASE OF THE MOUNTAIN

(By United Press)

Catania, Sicily, June 19.—
Thousands of civilians and farmers fled from the path of the five fiery obliterating avalanches of lava with their farm animals and household goods today, while the violent eruptions of Mount Etna that have rendered nearly 100,000 persons homeless continued.

Already ten little townships have been seared into oblivion beneath the devastating flow of molten metal as fresh explosions induce tremors which shake the volcano's base.

Over the shoulders of the fleeing farmers can be seen a wall of lava thousands of feet wide carrying along glowing incandescent weighing tons.
A blistering heat precedes the onrushing lava. Human life is impossible within a mile. Wells for miles around have dried up and vegetation is withered. Still further up the mountain, like a shroud over the destruction, streams a steady downpour of cinder, stones and lava fragments.
Ashes are already over the entire mountain as far as Giardini.

As the panicky exodus from threatened towns grows in volume, roads are blocked by farmers driving cattle, horses and beasts of burden from the path of the lava stream, across fields and dry river beds in their haste.

Inhabitants of towns that have not yet felt the heat of the descending masses that stage an uninterrupted incandescent display of fireworks from Etna's mouth are plainly visible after a night of terror.

eral Harry Daugherty, escaped from Stamford Hall sanatorium in company with a party of friends in an auto, according to a statement by Dr. Robinson, superintendent of the institution. Daugherty was confined there for six months by a probate court judge, it was declared.

GERMAN MARKS DROP

New York, June 19.—German marks made another sharp drop toward the vanishing point in yesterday's foreign exchange market, being quoted at .0996 7-8 cents, less

PREUS IS REPUBLICAN NOMINEE FOR SENATE

OF VOTE COUNTED,

THOUGH FIGHT WITH FARMER-

WET VOTE ACCORDED FRITSCHKE
MINNESOTA

(By United Press)
St. Paul, June 19.—Governor J. A. O. Preus, Magnus Johnson and James A. Carley are the party nominees in Minnesota's special senatorial primary.

With about one-third of the total vote counted early today indications were that the governor would take the republican nomination by a margin of around 30,000 votes.

Magnus Johnson, Kimball farmer, with a lighter vote in the farmer-labor primary than was anticipated, will probably win that party's endorsement by around 18,000. L. A. Fritschke, mayor of New Ulm and wet candidate, ran better than was expected in dry Minnesota.

State Senator James A. Carley, endorsed by the democratic central committee, will take the democratic nomination over Francis L. Cary, Minneapolis attorney, by a 4 to 1 vote.

The vote now stands Preus 32,900; Hallam 21,792 in the tabulated count, and Thomas D. Schall, Minneapolis, had a total of 18,123 votes—considered surprisingly high.

Magnus Johnson, in the tabulations at 7:30, had a lead of over 5,000 over L. A. Fritschke, his wet opponent. The vote was Johnson 18,349, Fritschke 13,540. The remaining territory to be heard from was considered Johnson ground.

The total primary vote apparently will be less than 400,000. The total possible vote is around 775,000 in the state's 3,473 precincts. Supporters of Judge Oscar Hallam conceded the republican nomination to Governor Preus at an early hour this morning. Judge Hallam had hoped for a big vote in the primary to win the nomination. He was so confident of receiving a big vote that he resigned his position as associate justice of the state supreme court to enter the race.

Charles W. Sterling, member of the State Railroad and Warehouse Commission and appointee of Governor Preus, resigned his post to manage Judge Hallam's campaign. Had Hallam won the senatorship it is thought Sterling planned to run for governor next year.

Many interesting things were revealed by the primary. First of all, the three farmer-labor candidates attracted only a very light vote compared with the huge poll given Dr. Henrik Shipstead as head of the party ticket last fall when he was elected to the United States senate by a huge plurality over Frank B. Kellogg, administration favorite.

Magnus Johnson, who ran close to Preus last fall for the governorship, had a vote in that race of 295,479 against a Preus vote of 309,706. Neither will have anything like those totals in the primary. Johnson lost much more ground in the primary than Preus, apparently. His friends account for this by the fact that the farmers are busy in the fields and that the storm Sunday made travel difficult in sections where Johnson was believed strong.

These factors deterred voters. Should Governor Preus be elected July 16, he will, of course, resign the governorship, and Lieutenant Governor Louis L. Collins, "little corporal of the 151st," will assume the duties of the chief state executive. He then will likely seek election to the post next year.

If Governor Preus is defeated in the election next month, he probably will remain governor until the next general election and then seek election to the seat of the late Senator Nelson, his political godfather.

Fremont, Neb., June 19.—Twenty-three Boy Scouts from 10 to 18 years old were marooned on Fremont Island southwest of here when the bridge connecting the island with the mainland was swept away by floods. REPORTED CURE FOR

Vienna, June 19.—Dr. Wagner Juarez, famous specialist, announced at the annual meeting of the Association of Vienna Physicians yesterday that he had healed 299 out of 300 cases of syphilitic paralysis, hitherto considered incurable. His treatment is an inoculation with malaria fever germs, and after the patient has suffered from mild malaria for a fortnight he is inoculated with neosalsarsan. He had one death in 300 patients.

senatorial fight in Minnesota, it was reliably stated today.

The present administration leaders in the United States senate feel that the nomination of Governor Preus was timely and that it will save the seat of the late Senator Nelson for the administration.

A tough fight with farmer-labor forces who took away one administration seat last election by electing Dr. Henrik Shipstead to the place of Frank B. Kellogg is anticipated. Johnson, running mate of Shipstead last fall, is virtually certain of the farmer-labor nomination in the senatorial primary. Dr. L. A. Fritschke, wet candidate, however, was holding up at noon in tabulations, and although trailing Johnson by more than 5,000 votes he refused to concede defeat.

The wet vote accorded Fritschke was surprising in dry Minnesota.

Out of 1063 precincts tabulated at noon, Johnson had 23,576 and Fritschke 18,429. C. A. Lindbergh of Little Falls trailed with 6,520.

The republican vote in the state indicated that Governor Preus will carry the primary by a majority of around 30,000 or more. It may go as high as 40,000. A total of 1267 precincts gave Preus 36,093; Judge Oscar Hallam 24,414, and Congressman Thomas D. Schall, Minneapolis, 19,132. Some quarters predicted Schall would pass Hallam and the later would finish third. Schall's showing to say the least, was surprising to political prognosticators.

Sydney Anderson, Third District congressman, lead the second division of republican candidates with 8,768 votes in 1051 precincts. Others trailed as follows: Victor Power 6,551; J. A. Burnquist 4,270; Halvor Steenerson 1,104; Ernest C. A. Lundeen 3,572; John J. Martin 312. In the democratic primary State Senator James A. Carley was assured the nomination by a 4 to 1 vote over his only opponent. The vote in 1955 precincts was Carley 4055, Cary 1,087.

Preus Increases His Lead

St. Paul, June 19.—Governor J. A. O. Preus steadily increased his margin over Judge Oscar Hallam for the republican senatorial nomination as returns came in from county auditors throughout the state this afternoon.

The governor at 2 p. m. held an advantage of more than 15,000 over his nearest opponent out of eight candidates for the republican endorsement. In 1642 precincts, representing half the total vote cast, the vote stood: Preus 40,321, Hallam 25,237.

The same precincts gave Congressman T. D. Schall 21,098.

In 1559 precincts Congressman Sydney Anderson had 11,228, Victor L. Power 11,714, Halvor Steenerson 2,007.

Magnus Johnson continued to increase his lead over L. A. Fritschke for the farmer-labor nomination. In 1559 precincts the vote stood Johnson 31,588, Fritschke 24,103, Lindbergh 9,756.

NATIONAL WHEAT
IN CHICAGO TODAY

500 DELEGATES PRESENT TO AT-TEMPT TO "PUT KING WHEAT

FARMERS, BANKERS, MILLERS,
MEN, ETC. THERE

(By United Press)
Chicago, June 19.—The first national wheat conference of 500 delegates opened here today to "put King Wheat back on his throne."

Farmers, bankers, millers, grain dealers, implement manufacturers and representatives of transportation interests gathered with the avowed intention of increasing prices the farmer receives for his wheat.

With weather in the grain belt giving promise of good crops in most sections and prices on grain slumping heavily, the problem was declared by leaders at the meeting to be a difficult one.

Governors of seven states, headed by J. A. O. Preus, Minnesota, today entered the conference to aid the producer.

Governor Preus delivered the opening address of the conference. Other speakers listed included Senator Arthur Capper, Kansas, leader of the farm "bloc" in Congress; F. F. White, president of Armour & Company; Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; Alexander Legg, president of the International Harvester company; Senator-elect Royal S. Copeland, New York; and Dr. Alonzo E. Taulor, director of the Food Research Institute at Leland Stanford university. The delegates here represent 200 agricultural and manufacturing interests.

Bankers of Chicago and other financial centers of the country are to be asked to co-operate with Minneapolis bankers in assisting in the war on "black rust" which is threatening the entire wheat crop in the Northwest.

Speakers declared that the ravages of black rust could only be combatted by private enterprise. The disease has been fought by state interests alone in the past.

Today's speakers asserted that with a surplus of 170,000,000 bushels of wheat and a bumper crop, many farmers will be forced to abandon their farms because the margin of profit as present prices is not sufficient to afford a living.

Scores Chicago Board of Trade

Chicago, June 19.—The Chicago Board of Trade has become the world's greatest gambling place and works against the interests of both producer and consumer, Senator Arthur Capper, Kansas, told five hundred delegates to the national wheat conference here today. The conference is being held to devise a way of increasing wheat prices.

"By operating 'bears' on the market prices were adjusted to bring a profit to the speculator at the expense of the man who grew the grain and the man who really consumes it," Capper declared.

"In the famous May squeeze of a year ago a few speculators cleaned up more than $2,000,000 within 24 hours through operations on the Board of Trade. That two million was more by far than what the farmers of Kansas were paid for their entire crop."

Senator Capper favors an organization for co-operative wheat marketing.

"Our present system of distribution is the most expensive of any country on earth. When the consumer buys a dollar's worth of farm products, less than 30 cents of the consumer's dollar reaches the farmer," he asserted.

"When a real co-operative marketing association such as that used by raisin, cotton and tobacco growers has been formed, producers will be

PRESIDENCY RACE

Springfield, Mass., June 19.—"I have no desire to be president of the United States," said Henry Ford, while stopping over the week end here on his way from Providence, R. I., to Poughkeepsie, N. Y. "I am too much occupied with my own affairs to become the next president, and I do not intend to run. All this you hear about my name being associated with the presidency is newspaper talk. There is nothing to it."

JOHN T. ADAMS AS NATIONAL CHAIRMAN

WILL MANAGE THE PRESIDENT
HARDING'S CAMPAIGN IN 1924

(Copyright 1923 by United Press)
Washington, June 19.—John T. Adams, successor as chairman of the republican national committee, will be picked for the chairmanship after President Harding returns from his forthcoming western trip.

Mr. Harding in person will select him. The new chairman will manage Harding's campaign in 1924.

Mr. Harding in his next campaign will be governed largely by the view of republican leaders in the west and midwest who will meet him on his tour.

Mr. Adams will remain as head of the committee until the republican convention of 1924, in spite of continued efforts to force him out before then. Then the president can settle any misunderstanding that exists between him and Adams on the world court, he pointed out, and the committee organization can function without change until the end of its term.

The 1924 campaign will center around the farmers. Third party talk centers in the farming regions, and constitutes the greatest danger, republican leaders agree. The west and midwest, therefore will provide a 1924 campaign manager.

Mr. Harding wants to get matters settled to everybody's satisfaction long enough in advance of the convention to avoid friction then. He will talk to national committeemen, state chairmen and other party leaders, who will meet his train on his trip through the west, most of them bringing claims of candidates for the chairmanship.

LIGHT VOTE IN MICH.
CONGRESSIONAL RACE

(By United Press)
Kalamazoo, Mich., June 19.—A light vote was being cast in the Third District Congressional race today, with the early vote indicating a close race between Claude Curney, democrat, and A. B. Williams, republican.

United States Senator W. T. Ferriss, democrat, who carried 4 out of 5 counties in the district in the senatorial election, campaigned for Curney. Williams made his race on the strength of his record during the Harding administration.

on such a basis that a surplus could be handled in a more intelligent way."

Capper's suggestion for a co-operative marketing association for wheat growers was endorsed by Governor J. A. O. Preus, Minnesota, chief spokesman of the conference, and Governor Jonathan Davis, Kansas.

"I want the farmers to have intelligent marketing, and this can be brought about in no better way than through a co-operative marketing association," Governor Preus said in his opening address.

"The farmer must be helped. My suggestion is co-operative marketing association," Governor Davis said after the address by Governor Preus.

Sydney Anderson, congressman from Minnesota was elected permanent chairman of the conference.

POLICE

CLAIMED SHE MAY HAVE KILLED
RICHARD C. TESMER AT HIS

(By United Press)
Chicago, June 19.—Miss Frances Thompson, alias Fred G. Thompson, was identified today as the "smiling blue-eyed girl bandit" who killed Richard C. Tesmer at his Gold Coast home, Chief of Detectives Michael Hughes announced today.

Police said that Frances is abnormal and that she sometimes poses as a man and some times a woman. Tesmer's widow made the identification at the Tesmer home, Hughes said. The alleged "girl bandit" was also known as Frances Carrick, police asserted.

The "girl", dressed in feminine attire, was arrested late yesterday in her north side apartment here by a police squad headed by Sergeant William Cusack. A man who gave his name as John Doe and a woman who calls herself Marie Clark were also found at the apartment.

When arrested, the girl was dressed in a pretty black-beaded dress, satin pumps and black silk stockings. When the police appeared, she said: "Well, I suppose you want me for the Tesmer murder?"

"What do you know about the Tesmer murder?" countered Cusack. "Well, you don't want me," she is quoted as replying, "the girl you want is a blonde." A previous description given the police was that the slayeress of Tesmer was a blonde. Then Hughes took her before the widow.

Tesmer was shot to death during a robbery at the Tesmer home. Mrs. Tesmer and he had just driven their car up to the garage when a girl with a male companion held them up. Mrs. Tesmer became hysterical when the robber demanded her wedding ring and Tesmer moved as if to console her.

The girl, who held the gun on the couple, giggled and shot Tesmer without warning. The "woman" identified today has feminine features.

Swords and Fish.

Indians still spear fish on some Canadian rivers with the old-fashioned trident. But in Haiti the natives use a machete, as their huge sword-like knife is called. The waters abound along the Haitian coast in mullet, mackerel, kingfish, cardines, red snappers, white fish, and many other varieties of excellent food fish, the common method of fishing by the natives is that practiced at night—by the means of a torch and a sharp machete. The light dazes the fish and the expert native kills it with his instrument.

CEMENT SURVEY
BEGINS WEDNESDAY

St. Paul, June 19.—Survey of the state's resources in limestone, marl and other materials used in making cement will be made by the special interim commission on a state cement plant, which was called yesterday to meet Wednesday at 10 a. m. at the state capital. The call was issued by Senator Mike Boylan of Virginia, who was chairman of a similar commission two years ago. It made a preliminary survey, but was hampered by lack of funds.

The last legislature appropriated $10,000 for the use of the new commission. It consists of Elias Nordgren, North Branch, former representative, named by Governor J. A. O. Preus; Senators Mike Boylan of Virginia and Ewen W. Cameron of Minneapolis, named by Lieutenant Governor Louis L. Collins; Representative Carl M. Iverson, Ashby, and Frank E. Nimocks, Minneapolis, appointed by Speaker W. I. Nolan.

The commission will organize on Wednesday and make plans for its work. It is probable that the survey also will locate bodies of gravel suitable for surfacing roads.

Filipino Women.

Filipinos have some customs which seem queer to us. A woman does not drive a horse or automobile, or ride a bicycle. She may wish to be a nurse, but men and boys occupy this field. She can do fine embroidery, but the men design the patterns. Yet twice the percentage of Filipino women are earning their living in comparison with Canadian women. Co-education exists throughout the islands.

FRESH EXPLOSIONS AND TREM-

MOUNTAIN

(By United Press)
Catania, Sicily, June 19.—Thousands of civilians and farmers fled from the path of the five fiery obliterating avalanches of lava with their farm animals and household goods today, while the violent eruptions of Mount Etna that have rendered nearly 100,000 persons homeless continued.

Already ten little townships have been seared into oblivion beneath the devastating flow of molten metal as fresh explosions induce tremors which shake the volcano's base.

Over the shoulders of the fleeing farmers can be seen a wall of lava thousands of feet wide carrying along glowing incandescent weighing tons. A blistering heat precedes the onrushing lava. Human life is impossible within a mile. Wells for miles around have dried up and vegetation is withered. Still further up the mountain, like a shroud over the destruction, streams a steady downpour of cinder, stones and lava fragments. Ashes are already over the entire mountain as far as Giardini.

As the panicky exodus from threatened towns grows in volume, roads are blocked by farmers driving cattle, horses and beasts of burden from the path of the lava stream, across fields and dry river beds in their haste.

Inhabitants of towns that have not yet felt the heat of the descending masses that stage an uninterrupted incandescent display of fireworks from Etna's mouth are plainly visible after a night of terror.

New York, June 19.—German marks made another sharp drop toward the vanishing point in yesterday's foreign exchange market, being quoted at .0006 7-8 cents, less than one half the rate for the Austrian crown, which is pegged at .0014 cents. ## JUST TALKED OF SQUIRRELS

Listener Discovered That "Big" Men Are Not Always Discussing "Big" Business.

Two pilgrims were following the road to Mecca. At the treasury steps they met with a squirrel that reminded the one who looked as if he owned a railroad to say to the other: "I was showing my kid around the White House yesterday, and as there are no squirrels in the streets at home, I sort of frightened the boy when one of these little rascals tagged us. I told him that all it wanted was peanuts and that when it found we had none it would go away—whereupon the little chap had a bright idea.

"Well, daddy, you could give him a nickel, couldn't you?"

The two chuckled with the ease that comes of good nature united to health, and the other man—who looked as if he owned two railroads and a good mine—started in on a story of his own:

"I wouldn't be afraid to bet squirrels could learn to spend nickels, at that. One time we were having a rumus in the senate, with old Blank giving our side oratorical blood and thunder, and, sir, just as we were about to be flayed alive, along hops a squirrel up the aisle, jumps on Blank's arm extended in denunciation—sits on its haunches and begins to beg. It seems he had a pull on the old man, who always carried nuts in his pocket—and it saved the day for us."

And by that time the story was through with, and the two pilgrims had reached the Garden of Allah—with a listener behind.—Washington Star.

Little Sonny at Party Returned Empty Plate to His Rather Surprised Hostess.

Children are among the most beautiful springtime decorations of the national capital.

The freshness of these human flowers is something that never grows old. They are among the decorations that are with us always.

With this prelude here is another anecdote of Sonny.

When he was about two years old, just walking nicely and talking a bit, he was invited to a party given by a young lady of about the same age. His mother took him and left him there, then went away to return for him later.

After the children had played, the "ents" were served. Even the smallest ones were given a little ice cream. Sonny enjoyed his thoroughly.

Then he turned to his hostess.

"Here!" he said, handing her his plate, getting down from the table and making his departure.—Washington Star.

Getting a Spring Bonnet.

On a gusty day recently when the breezes were making playthings of one's headgear, a young woman was observed chasing her hat in Washington street, near Meridian street. It was a new spring bonnet, resplendent with gay flowers.

The wind was strong, and the young woman was not able to keep up. A gust tossed the hat in the air, and a hundred feet away. Two women, seeing the woman's plight, started in chase of the hat. Suddenly, from the crowd, a fourth woman leaped out and grabbed the hat. Without looking she made for the nearest doorway, holding the hat closely to her side. The other women started toward her, and she began to run. She gained the doorway, and was lost in the aisles of a department store.—Indianapolis News.

Children Like "Play Cars."

"Play as You Enter" is the welcome sign on the sides of the "Jollytown" trolley cars in Baltimore, near one of the city parks, where the traction company has set aside several cars for the children to play in. The cars are complete in every detail except that the power is turned off and they are anchored to the ground. Instead of the usual advertising cards, Mother Goose rhymes and animal pictures are displayed along the sides. The constant din of register bells, clanging

Lumber production has been gradually decreasing in the United States, reports the Department of Agriculture. A survey recently made of 37 eastern and southern lumber-producing states showed that in one there was a slight increase made in 1920. On the other hand, states on the Pacific coast report substantial increases, showing that the center of production is shifting to the western states, the last of our softwood reserves.

Shoe on Other Feet.

I had worked in a well-known plant on the fourth floor of the building and knew all the girls on that floor. I left and came back about one month later to take charge of the fifth floor.

The plant had a cafeteria in the basement and at noon I went down for luncheon and joined five of my old friends. They were very glad to see me back and asked what floor I was working on. I told them the fifth. One named Martha said, "The fifth! They have a new forelady there and say, she is awful." Others chimed in with as much and worse.

Asked how I liked this forelady, I said I liked her and was sure she would try and do her best by all the girls and treat all as well as she knew how. They asked me to describe her and I readily described myself, but the "panners" did not catch on. An old Irish lady next to me did. Nudging me, she said: "Go on; you're the forelady." Martha asked, "Are you?" I said, "I am."

Five girls got up from the table and disappeared.—Chicago Tribune.

JUST TALKED OF SQUIRRELS

Listener Discovered That "Big" Men Are Not Always Discussing "Big" Business.

Two pilgrims were following the road to Mecca. At the treasury steps they met with a squirrel that reminded the one who looked as if he owned a railroad to say to the other:

"I was showing my kid around the White House yesterday, and as there are no squirrels in the streets at home, I sort of frightened the boy when one of these little rascals tagged us. I told him that all it wanted was peanuts and that when it found we had none it would go away—whereupon the little chap had a bright idea.

"Well, daddy, you could give him a nickel, couldn't you?"

The two chuckled with the ease that comes of good nature united to health, and the other man—who looked as if he owned two railroads and a good mine—started in on a story of his own:

"I wouldn't be afraid to bet squirrels could learn to spend nickels, at that. One time we were having a rumpus in the senate, with old Blank giving our side oratorical blood and thunder, and, sir, just as we were about to be flayed alive, along hops a squirrel up the aisle, jumps on Blank's arm extended in denunciation—sits on its haunches and begins to beg. It seems he had a pull on the old man, who always carried nuts in his pocket—and it saved the day for us."

And by that time the story was through with, and the two pilgrims had reached the Garden of Allah—with a listener behind.—Washington Star.

Little Sonny at Party Returned Empty Plate to His Rather Surprised Hostess.

Children are among the most beautiful springtime decorations of the national capital.

The freshness of these human flowers is something that never grows old. They are among the decorations that are with us always.

With this prelude here is another anecdote of Sonny.

When he was about two years old, just walking nicely and talking a bit, he was invited to a party given by a young lady of about the same age. His mother took him and left him there, then went away to return for him later.

After the children had played, the "cents" were served. Even the smallest ones were given a little ice cream. Sonny enjoyed his thoroughly.

Then he turned to his hostess.

"Here!" he said, handing her his plate, getting down from the table and making his departure.—Washington Star.

French Wheat Production.

From an investigation made by the French minister of agriculture it is estimated that the wheat production in France in 1922 was over 6,000,000 metric tons. The decree requiring the incorporation of a certain percentage of wheat substitute in the milling of flour is to be strictly enforced in order to avoid the necessity of importing wheat into France.

Production of Spinach Seed.

Over 313,000 pounds of spinach seed was raised commercially in 1922, according to reports reaching the United States Department of Agriculture. This is an increase of 1,100 per cent over the production of 1921, but is only about two-thirds of the five-year average production.

Agriculture in Manchuria.

The cultivated land in the two northern provinces of Manchuria yielded approximately 9,520,000 tons of cereals in the last two years, including 1,270,000 tons of wheat. Agricultural production has been increasing rapidly and constantly.

Taking It By and Large.

MARRIAGE EASY IN RUSSIA

And It Is Said Divorce Is Even Quicker of Attainment Than Is Wedlock.

The separation of church and state in Russia has exercised a strong influence on marriage, as well as on its corollary, divorce. It has been pointed out that marriage by the church has no legal value. To be married and divorced in a half hour is an actual legal possibility in soviet Russia, unless, of course, the queues in front of the respective registrar's tables happen to be too long. Or, if the couple are of a sentimental turn of mind, they may revert to wedlock in the specified time, if the officials are not too busy.

Ease of marriage and even greater ease of divorce is one of the Communist government's answers to three of the world's greatest social problems—matrimony, morality and illegitimate children.

The simple act of both persons appearing before a magistrate and signing a marriage contract constitutes the only marriage ceremony recognized by present law in Russia. There is not even the formality of the spoken vows. Both applicants, however, must present themselves.

Divorce is still easier, in that the desire of only one of the two parties affected is sufficient. Either husband or wife may obtain abrogation of their marriage by appearing at the registrar's office and indicating that continuance of conjugal relations is no longer craved. There is no trial, no appeal. The dissatisfied husband simply signs a paper and walks out a free man. If there are children, however, he does not escape responsibility for support. This latter point, as well as several other correlated legal phases of the divorce question, are still a bit vague, owing to the fact that Russia has no written code of marriage. The only law that exists consists of a few decrees promulgated by the Kremlin and the common sense and conscience of the official. Stripping it of all the sentiment and religious background surrounding marriage in the legal system of the West, the Communist approaches the institution of wedlock as a purely civil procedure, just like any other contract between two persons. The church ceremony has no legal value in Russia, although most people still go through the gesture, as in France, where a similar situation prevails.—Edwin W. Hullinger in Current History.

Sneeze First.

Gen. Amos Fries, chief of the chemical warfare service of our army, suggests the introduction of a small quantity of a new "sneeze gas" into illuminating gas, with a view to preventing suicides. Assuredly the man contemplating self-destruction will find it extremely disconcerting to have to pause in the midst of the solemn process for so ridiculous a gesture as that of sneezing. Empedocles of Etna, or Sophocles with his draught of hemlock, or Cleopatra with her asp could not have departed this life with dignity in the middle of a sneeze. If one stops long enough for that, there is a chance of a sober second thought.

About one suicide in seven in this country is with gas. The fact shows the importance of even so slight an obstacle of a sneeze. A fraction of a second may be enough to upset a foolish determination. If he who hesitates is lost, he also may be saved when the pause means an instantaneous review of the causes leading up to the precipitate deed. It does not take long in such instances to decide that one is in error, and to recant.

TREAT FOR THE YOUNGSTERS

"Man on Horseback" Proved That He Could Unbend—Truly a "Very Lovely Sunday."

The man on horseback has stood through many centuries as the type of the haughty, superior person. He rides while others plod. He looks down upon the rest of us. And riders in the park are very superior persons indeed. Yet one who easily bestrode a handsome chestnut horse was seen the other Sunday afternoon to stop beside the railing near the Sixty-sixth street gate, westward, where stood a woman with many children.

He reined in, borrowed an urchin and set it on the pommel of his saddle. Very gently he trotted off, very lightly he turned and very softly he cantered back, never getting beyond the brave but anxious mother's sight. Then he borrowed another urchin and did it again. And then another. And each time, as he handed the proud child back, he slipped something into its hand.

A man who walks in the park regularly says he has never in many years of walking there seen the like happen before. It was a very lovely Sunday.—New York Times.

Europe's Surplus Spinsters.

The German statistics office has made the announcement that there are on the continent of Europe 25,000,000 women, the majority of them young and marriageable, who must either embrace polygamy or go unmarried, as there are not sufficient men to furnish them with husbands.

In 1913 Europe had a recorded population of 460,000,000 people, and a surplus of 40,500,000 women. The present population is estimated at 475,000,000, with a surplus of 25,000,000 women. To each batch of a thousand men there are 1,111 women.

Russia has the largest number of women, 1,229 to 1,000 men; Germany

1,000 to 1,000. Austria has 1,000 to 1,000. Holland is the most favored in this regard, for in that country the surplus has decreased from 1,020 to 1,010 women to 1,000 men.

Immense Area of Yellowstone.

Yellowstone, in northwestern Wyoming, is the largest of the national park system, having an area of 3,348 square miles. It has more geysers than all the rest of the world combined. Furthermore, it has boiling springs, mud volcanoes, petrified forests and large deep lakes and waterfalls, one of which, the Great Falls of the Yellowstone, is nearly twice as high as Niagara. Its Grand canyon, remarkable for its gorgeous coloring, is incomparable, and except for small parts of the African jungle is the most thickly populated wild animal region in the world, including deer, elk, bison, moose, antelope, bear and mountain sheep, with endless varieties of wild birds.

Wrong Oil in the Salad.

We were having the bishop of the diocese to dinner one evening and I had included a salad in our menu.

My little daughter leaned over and whispered, "Mother, what's the matter with the oil on the salad? It tastes so queer?" What was my horror, on investigating, to find that the drug store had sent us castor oil instead of the olive oil we always bought for its purity. I have often wondered what the bishop thought.—Chicago Tribune.

Impressive Figures.

In the city of New York today there are 33,000 manufacturing establishments, with $3,040,000,000 of capital, employing in round numbers 640,000 wage earners, who receive $806,000,000 annually for their services in turning out products having an aggregate value of between $5,000,000,000 and $7,000,000,000.

French Wheat Production.

From an investigation made by the French minister of agriculture it is estimated that the wheat production in France in 1922 was over 6,000,000 metric tons. The decree requiring the incorporation of a certain percentage of wheat substitute in the milling of flour is to be strictly enforced in order to avoid the necessity of importing wheat into France.

Production of Spinach Seed.

Over 313,000 pounds of spinach seed was raised commercially in 1922, according to reports reaching the United States Department of Agriculture. This is an increase of 1,100 per cent over the production of 1921, but is only about two-thirds of the five-year average production.

Agriculture in Manchuria.

The cultivated land in the two northern provinces of Manchuria yielded approximately 9,520,000 tons of cereals in the last two years, including 1,270,000 tons of wheat. Agricultural production has been increasing rapidly and constantly.

MARRIAGE EASY IN RUSSIA

And it is Said Divorce is Even Quicker of Attainment Than is Wedlock.

The separation of church and state in Russia has exercised a strong influence on marriage, as well as on its corollary, divorce. It has been pointed out that marriage by the church has no legal value. To be married and divorced in a half hour is an actual legal possibility in soviet Russia, unless, of course, the queues in front of the respective registrar's tables happen to be too long. Or, if the couple are of a sentimental turn of mind, they may revert to wedlock in the specified time, if the officials are not too busy.

Ease of marriage and even greater ease of divorce is one of the Communist government's answers to three of the world's greatest social problems—matrimony, morality and illegitimate children.

The simple act of both persons appearing before a magistrate and signing a marriage contract constitutes the only marriage ceremony recognized by present law in Russia. There is not even the formality of the spoken vows. Both applicants, however, must present themselves.

Divorce is still easier, in that the desire of only one of the two parties affected is sufficient. Either husband or wife may obtain abrogation of their marriage by appearing at the registrar's office and indicating that continuance of conjugal relations is no longer craved. There is no trial, no appeal. The dissatisfied husband simply signs a paper and walks out a free man. If there are children, however, he does not escape responsibility for support. This latter point, as well as several other correlated legal phases of the divorce question, are still a bit vague, owing to the fact that Russia has no written code of marriage. The only law that exists consists of a few decrees promulgated by the Kremlin and the common sense and conscience of the official. Stripping it of all the sentiment and religious background surrounding marriage in the legal system of the West, the Communist approaches the institution of wedlock as a purely civil procedure, just like any other contract between two persons. The church ceremony has no legal value in Russia, although most people still go through the gesture, as in France, where a similar situation prevails.—Edwin W. Hullinger in Current History.

Sneeze First.

Gen. Amos Fries, chief of the chemical warfare service of our army, suggests the introduction of a small quantity of a new "sneeze gas" into blundering gas, with a view to preventing suicides. Assuredly the man contemplating self-destruction will find it extremely disconcerting to have to pause in the midst of the solemn process for so ridiculous a gesture as that of sneezing. Empedocles of Etna, or Sophocles with his draught of hemlock, or Cleopatra with her asp could not have departed this life with dignity in the middle of a sneeze. If one stops long enough for that, there is a chance of a sober second thought.

About one suicide in seven in this country is with gas. The fact shows the importance of even so slight an obstacle as a sneeze. A fraction of a second may be enough to upset a foolish determination. If he who hesitates is lost, he also may be saved when the pause means an instantaneous review of the causes leading up to the precipitate deed. It does not take long in such instances to decide that one is in error, and to recant.

FARMING MUST YIELD FAIR RETURNS

REPRESENTATIVES of many interests will meet in Chicago on Wednesday and Thursday to discuss ways and means of helping the farmer whose income from the sale of his produce is not equal to the cost of production. Unless methods can be found to change this condition the farmer will not be the only sufferer. This conference is endorsed by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who sees as others see that the effect upon labor and the public in general will be deplorable unless there is a return to agricultural prosperity this fall.

Governor J. A. O. Preus is largely responsible for this conference and the governor, by this and other recommendations, has proved that he is alive to the seriousness of the situation in the agricultural states of the northwest.

Any recommendations that look to the consumption of the wheat surplus will be carefully considered but stress will be laid upon the practical suggestion that calls upon the American people to consume more of this product of the farm. One of the interested representatives at this conference will call attention to the fact that the emphasis upon saving wheat, called for by the exigencies of the war, has led to a reduced consumption of wheat by the American people. At that time the people were asked to save wheat for the allied nations and substitutes were introduced. The American people did not enjoy the substitutes and they turned to other palatable foodstuffs that they found satisfactory. The slogan at that time was "Save wheat;" the slogan at this time must be "Eat all the wheat possible." If the public adds a slice of bread at each meal this will result in a large if not a total reduction of the expected surplus of wheat.

The public may conclude that this will raise the price of wheat and that they will pay this increase in price. It is probable that they will; but, in doing this, they will lose nothing in the end. Unless the farmer is given a fair price for the next harvest the wheels of industry will slow up in the United States and the people will lose more than the amount they would pay in increased prices of farm products.

There is another phase of this subject in which the public is interested. It was stated in these words by Mr. Gompers in the message in which he endorsed the conference: "Those who handle wheat but do not raise it have no difficulty in making money out of wheat. Perhaps such a conference as that now proposed may find a way by which more satisfactory results will accrue to those who raise the wheat." It is certain that the public does not expect to pay more for wheat if the added amount goes to those who handle the wheat and not to the farmer who produces the wheat. There is a wide margin between the price paid the farmer and the price asked of the consumer. This margin must be reduced. So long as it exists the farmer has reason to grumble.

IDEALISM AND ECONOMICS

THERE are times when the proposals of idealists are used by others to secure economic advantage. At such times idealism vanishes or is eclipsed by the struggle for economic gain. Such was the story of the League of Nations. Conceived by idealists as a method of alignment of the nations, in a union dedicated to world peace, it became, in the conference at Versailles, a rapprochement interested in protecting and extending national interests. Not alone America's traditional policy that looks coldly upon entanglements with other nations but also American idealism bade Americans fight shy of such an instrument of questionable utility.

Those who determine the policies of nations are not usually idealists. Those who are trained in the diplomacy of the "old world" are more likely to be skillful opportunists, intent upon securing national advantage at the cost of humanitarian interests. Even in the Western world the policies of the nations are under the direction of men who have lost their youthful idealism in the conflict with things as they are. Economic advantage and national self-interest tend to cover up ideals in the struggle for existence.

The world is face to face with the tragedy of the submerging of ideals, when it considers the events of recent history. The story of Lausanne is one that does not reveal the power of ideals to defeat selfish ends. The peoples of the world were promised by their leaders that, if they responded freely to the call during the World war, the victory of the allied arms would issue in the self-determination of minorities. Since then the Armenians have been butchered, except a remnant which escaped into other lands. The powers have not attempted to restore these to their own soil but have, by diplomacy, arranged concessions from the Turks, probably at the price of Armenian suffering and homelessness.

Unless the people insist upon righteousness in international affairs neither Leagues of Nations nor World courts will be other than instruments to promote the economic advantage of the dominant interests in the nations that are so organized. Idealism does not descend from the top, it ascends from the bottom. The heart of the people is sound, but until representation in international organizations is the representation of the people and not of the dominant interests, that so largely affect the policies of governments; there is little hope of the instruments that look attractive to idealists being used to conserve the ideals that they hold vital to the world's progress and peace.

AMERICANIZATION THROUGH FRIENDLY CONTACT

THE women of the Minnesota American Legion auxiliary have adopted a plan for the carrying forward of their Americanization work within the state that might be followed with advantage in every state of the union. The auxiliary has concluded that the only way to make newly naturalized citizens into warm-hearted patriots is through a friendly contact established by those who are warmly patriotic themselves.

Vital patriotism, good Americanism, and devoted citizenship, are not the result of knowledge of our institutions. Technical knowledge does not always lead to fervent interest in the government or institution with which the information deals. Patriotism and Americanism is more a matter of the heart than the head. This, the women of the auxiliary have discovered, and on this they build.

The auxiliary states that foreigners say, "One can learn your language easily enough, but we have so little chance to learn to know you personally." The American language may be no more vital in making American than a dead language would be unless contacts are established with those who use that language, and these contacts must not be in the classroom alone. Knowledge of the language, institutions and laws may merely develop an interest in evading the penalties of broken laws. The educated immigrant, who is without affection for this country, may be more dangerous than the unlettered foreigner within our borders.

Immigrants cannot be Americanized by machine-like processes nor can they be Americanized en masse. Americanization is not just a matter of acquiring knowledge, it is the shifting of affections, and affections are more emotional than intellectual.

Personality counts for more in this work than anything else and Theodore Roosevelt's interest in immigrants was responsible for the making of many good American citizens, for example, Jacob Riis.

The women of the Minnesota American Legion auxiliary have got to bed rock and their work will count for more than a great amount of Americanization propaganda.

EITHER the promoters are seeking to lead the public to believe that Dempsey isn't the man he was, or Dempsey isn't. Dempsey's normalcy is more important in the thoughts of some people than the nation's destiny.

BISHOP CHARLES WESLEY BURNS sees religion coming back, and it depends upon religion whether the world will go forward or go back. A backward religion means a backward world.

JAPAN offers to back the United States and England in China intervention. Perhaps this is a case in which two is company and three is none.

It's too bad that the boys who crossed on the Leviathan as she was cannot all take another trip on her as she is. There's a difference.

THE drill is to go down near Rochester, and if oil comes up money will go into the district that will not come out.

HIGHWAYS RARELY TO BLAME FOR ACCIDENTS

Accident-proof highways are still in a class with artificial eggs—there are no such things, says a bulletin issued this week by the Minnesota highway department.

Speeding and chance-taking cause the large percentage of accidents on the roads, the bulletin states. More accidents occur on broad, smooth, straight highways than on those with dangerous curves or rough sandy surfaces. This is supported by record field employees of the department being required to report all accidents on the trunk routes, and special investigations and photographs being made in the more serious cases.

"Blinded by glaring headlights the driver turned off the grade and plunged over the embankment," read one accident account which failed to add the fact that the machine had crossed the road and gone off the left side.

"The car struck a sandy spot and all six passengers were hurt," said another, without adding the fact that the small, overloaded car was traveling faster than 40 miles an hour.

"The body was found under the car which had gone off the road at the turn," read still another, in which the driver had fallen asleep.

Elimination of railroad grade crossings, roundings of corners and lengthening of curves, erection of guard-rails and posting of warning signs—all safety measures and devices are useless, say the bulletin, when drivers fail to exercise reasonable care. More than twenty cars have crashed into one long guard-rail already this season, not because the stretch is dangerous, it continues, but on the contrary is so good that drivers race along at 55 to 65 miles an hour. The highway department is improving and maintaining the trunk highways and safety is always a consideration, the bulletin concludes, but the policing of the roads is left by law to local authorities and the driver who speeds and takes chances frequently pays for foolhardiness.

FARMING MUST YIELD FAIR RETURNS

REPRESENTATIVES of many interests will meet in Chicago on Wednesday and Thursday to discuss ways and means of helping the farmer whose income from the sale of his produce is not equal to the cost of production. Unless methods can be found to change this condition the farmer will not be the only sufferer. This conference is endorsed by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who sees as others see that the effect upon labor and the public in general will be deplorable unless there is a return to agricultural prosperity this fall.

Governor J. A. O. Preus is largely responsible for this conference and the governor, by this and other recommendations, has proved that he is alive to the seriousness of the situation in the agricultural states of the northwest.

Any recommendations that look to the consumption of the wheat surplus will be carefully considered but stress will be laid upon the practical suggestion that calls upon the American people to consume more of this product of the farm. One of the interested representatives at this conference will call attention to the fact that the emphasis upon saving wheat, called for by the exigencies of the war, has led to a reduced consumption of wheat by the American people. At that time the people were asked to save wheat for the allied nations and substitutes were introduced. The American people did not enjoy the substitutes and they turned to other palatable foodstuffs that they found satisfactory. The slogan at that time was "Save wheat;" the slogan at this time must be "Eat all the wheat possible." If the public adds a slice of bread at each meal this will result in a large if not a total reduction of the expected surplus of wheat.

The public may conclude that this will raise the price of wheat and that they will pay this increase in price. It is probable that they will; but, in doing this, they will lose nothing in the end. Unless the farmer is given a fair price for the next harvest the wheels of industry will slow up in the United States and the people will lose more than the amount they would pay in increased prices of farm products.

There is another phase of this subject in which the public is interested. It was stated in these words by Mr. Gompers in the message in which he endorsed the conference: "Those who handle wheat but do not raise it have no difficulty in making money out of wheat. Perhaps such a conference as that now proposed may find a way by which more satisfactory results will accrue to those who raise the wheat." It is certain that the public does not expect to pay more for wheat if the added amount goes to those who handle the wheat and not to the farmer who produces the wheat. There is a wide margin between the price paid the farmer and the price asked of the consumer. This margin must be reduced. So long as it exists the farmer has reason to grumble.

The Convict's Home-Coming

By ELLA SAUNDERS

(© by Western Newspaper Union.)

WHEN Henry Fowkes was sent to the penitentiary for twenty years, for slaying a fellow man in anger, he accepted the fact that Jennie would secure a divorce from him. It was not as if they had ever been more to each other than the average married couple; then there were no children, and Jennie was a young woman. No, it was not reasonable to expect that she would wait for him to come out, in order to resume their life together again.

News of the impending divorce was brought to him, and later he learned the name of the man whom she had married. It was Austin Fogg, the bank cashier. That was what the trouble was. If it had been any man but Austin! But Austin, his hypocritical friend, who had deserted him in his trouble, Austin, who had sworn to tell the truth on the witness stand, how Clayton had tricked him—and had lied, in order that Henry should get the full penalty, and he could marry Henry's wife.

That was why, released after fifteen years, Henry was on his way to his old home town, in order to kill Austin.

As for Jennie, she was beneath contempt. She had abandoned him so openly for Austin. Doubtless it had been a put-up job between them. His lip was curled as he thought of the time when he had loved that woman more than anything in the world.

The old town had not changed very greatly in those fifteen years. Henry stepped into Ray's drug store to look at the telephone book. Ray was behind the counter. "Sure," he nodded to Henry. He did not recognize him. Henry found the address—Fogg's old home on Park avenue. So nothing had changed at all. Those fifteen hideous years, which had taken him and ground him under their iron wheel had left everything, spared everything. These little humdrum lives! God . . . his hand clutched at the pistol under his coat.

Now Henry was outside Fogg's house, and that, too, was unchanged. The shade was up, and, stooping under the high sill in the darkness, he could see Jennie and Austin sitting at the dinner table. They, too, looked exactly as when he had seen them last.

He listened. Austin was speaking: "If I've told you once, I've told you a thousand times I didn't like tomato soup. What sort of wife are you if you can't remember that?"

"I've been a good wife to you, and you're always grumbling about something. You are so mean I have to beg you every time I want a new dress or hat. If people in town knew how you treat me they'd say I was mad not to get a divorce from you."

"Yes, you're handy at divorces, aren't you?" sneered Austin. "I wish you would get one. Get one, and good riddance!"

"All because you don't like your tomato soup," cried Jennie. "You think in terms of your stomach; that's what's the trouble with you."

"He was a better man than you'll ever be, and I wish I had him back again!" cried Jennie.

"You'd better take him, then, when he comes out of the penitentiary. He ought to be out before long," sneered Austin.

Henry quietly opened the front door, tapped at the dining-room door, and entered. They looked at him for a moment in stupefaction. Then they knew him. Jennie started back with a cry.

"I came back here to kill you, Austin," said Henry, "but I've changed my mind since overhearing that nice little conjugal scrap of yours. Seems to me you've both got pretty well what you deserved, and it'd be a shame to spoil things. What's the matter with that soup? Get out of the way!"

He shoved Austin from the table, sat down, and tasted it. "Very good soup," he said, finishing the plateful.

He arose. "Yes, every one to his taste," he said. "I came here to repay you for your lies and trickery, Austin, but, Lord, you're not worth it. I've had my fifteen years of hell, and I'm going to leave you folks to stew in yours."

Why Silver Tarnishes.

There is always a good deal of sulphur in the air. Gas and coal gas add to it. This sulphur compound acts upon silver, covering the surface of the article with a black film, which is called sulphide of silver. When we polish the tarnished silver we rub this sulphide away, and at the same time we are slowly losing the silver itself. Silver is best kept bright in the summer if a cotton flannel cloth is kept handy and the silver article is given a brisk rub every two or three days. It will not need polish so frequently. This lessens the work considerably and prolongs the life of silver. Sometimes silver tarnishes very badly when put away in home-made cases. This may be due to some sort of sulphur compound present in the dye or bleach of the material. Therefore jewelers select materials free from such compounds when making their cases, and for this reason the silver, if kept in the cotton flannel cases, when stored away, will keep its brightness.

AMUSEMENTS

Beauty Supreme in "Singed Wings"

For "Singed Wings," his new production for Paramount featuring Bebe Daniels and Conrad Nagel, Penrhyn Stanlaws, the director, demanded "twelve of the most beautiful girls in Hollywood."

Unusual beauty, not only on the part of the girls, but also in their costumes, was necessitated by the big ballroom set in which they took part for a scene in "Singed Wings."

This big set was so massive and so impressive and beautiful. In addition, Miss Daniels, in the moth costume created for her presentation of "The Moth Dance," added more beauty to the scene, which is easily one of the most picturesque ever photographed for the screen. "Singed Wings" comes to the Lyceum theatre Wednesday and Thursday. The story is thrilling.

Man's Answer to "The Sheik"

"A man's answer to Edith M. Hull's 'The Sheik.'" Such a line is inspired by the Paramount picture of Arthur Weigall's novel, "Burning Sands," which is showing last time tonight at the Lyceum theatre. This is the powerful story of an English girl who seeks the man she loves and makes him love her.

As in the case of "The Sheik," the

A New Thought in Vamp Roles

A brand new idea in screen villainy must be credited to Estelle Taylor who has one of the principal roles in "Thorns and Orange Blossoms," the Gamier production which will be at the New Park on Wednesday and Thursday.

For Miss Taylor, far from acting the accepted role of the screen bad woman, appears as one of the most attractive feminine players to be seen in recent pictures. It is only by the most delicate touches and the most subtle insinuations that she succeeds in transferring the sympathies of the audience to the beautiful Edith Roberts, the heroine in the story.

BUICK PRODUCTION IN MAY EXCEED 19,500; SETS NEW HIGH MARK

Wednesday Sees 1,237 Automobiles Shipped From Buick Plants; 131 Trainloads Since January 1.

According to figures released to The Flint, Michigan Journal today, Buick production, which has continuously broken previous monthly records since early last fall, reached a new high mark in the month of May in the building of more than 19,500 automobiles.

Further figures show that the greatest Buick monthly production prior to September last was 13,290. In September, production exceeded 15,000, but was made to look comparatively small the very next month when in excess of 17,500 cars were built.

New Daily Record

Average output for the following six months exceeded 16,700 automobiles per month, the top previous to May having been reached in April, with more than 19,000 cars. In this same month of April the record day's production of Buicks was achieved, 962 being turned out on April 17.

With May exceeding all previous production accomplishments, it is particularly interesting to learn that this early in June another Buick record has been smashed, shipments on last Wednesday, June 6th, amounting to 356 freight carloads containing 1,237 automobiles. The best previous day's shipment was on December 28, 1922, when 1,226 automobiles left the Buick plants. Since January 1, there have been shipped 131 solid trainloads of Buicks, 50 flat cars to a train.

It follows that local Buick sales records from coast to coast have been continuously shattered. How Buick has distanced the closest competition nearly everywhere is a story of figures that in many instances is startling. Case after case is cited where, from Minneapolis to New Orleans and from the Atlantic to the Pacific, Buick has surpassed at many points even the smaller low-priced cars.

Pres. H. H. Bassett Comments

How long will this great demand for automobiles, best exemplified by the call for quality cars such as the Buick, continue? President H. H. Bassett today had some timely comment to offer in answer to this question.

"I can see no reason why the last six months of this year should not produce equally as good business for the automobile trade as the first six months have shown," said Mr. Bassett to a Journal reporter. "It is certainly a fact that the general business situation in the United States is in a very satisfactory condition. Generally speaking, crops promise to average well. The money situation is in fine shape. There is no apparent tendency for a runaway boom market, which might be followed by a depression."

"It seems to me that people in general have learned a lesson from the past, and to those who offer the right kind of merchandise, at prices consistent to the quality of the goods, should come a very satisfactory business indeed," Ingram Auto Co., Local Agents.

'Book of Instructions to Our Service Men

Open to the Motoring Public

This is an unusual book.

Each and every employee of this Company has had a part in its preparation.

Ordinarily, books of this kind are closed to the public and the distribution is limited only to those for whom it was intended—in this instance our service station men.

But I believe that the public should know of our work—of our plans—of the ideal to which we are building. For that is only fair. We are all partners in this business. We all have something in common.

You are interested in a Real Constructive Service; we are pledged-to-a-man to give you that Service—a Service That Means Something.

So I have asked our advertising manager to open this book to the public, turning its pages to that section which is of vital interest to every man and woman who drives a car.

I want you to feel the Spirit of Co-operation that is ever present throughout our entire organization.

And I want you to avail yourself of it.

By ELLA SAUNDERS

(© by Western Newspaper Union.)

WHEN Henry Fowkes was sent to the penitentiary for twenty years, for slaying a fellow man in anger, he accepted the fact that Jennie would secure a divorce from him. It was not as if they had ever been more to each other than the average married couple; then there were no children, and Jennie was a young woman. No, it was not reasonable to expect that she would wait for him to come out, in order to resume their life together again.

News of the impending divorce was brought to him, and later he learned the name of the man whom she had married. It was Austin Fogg, the bank cashier. That was what the trouble was. If it had been any man but Austin! But Austin, his hypocritical friend, who had deserted him in his trouble, Austin, who had sworn to tell the truth on the witness stand, how Clayton had tricked him—and had lied, in order that Henry should get the full penalty, and he could marry Henry's wife.

That was why, released after fifteen years, Henry was on his way to his old home town, in order to kill Austin.

As for Jennie, she was beneath contempt. She had abandoned him so openly for Austin. Doubtless it had been a put-up job between them. His lip was curled as he thought of the time when he had loved that woman more than anything in the world.

The old town had not changed very greatly in those fifteen years. Henry stepped into Ray's drug store to look at the telephone book. Ray was behind the counter. "Sure," he nodded to Henry. He did not recognize him. Henry found the address—Fogg's old home on Park avenue. So nothing had changed at all. Those fifteen hideous years, which had taken him and ground him under their iron wheel had left everything, spared everything. These little humdrum lives! God... his hand clutched at the pistol under his coat.

Now Henry was outside Fogg's house, and that, too, was unchanged. The shade was up, and, stooping under the high sill in the darkness, he could see Jennie and Austin sitting at the dinner table. They, too, looked exactly as when he had seen them last.

He listened. Austin was speaking: "If I've told you once, I've told you a thousand times I didn't like tomato soup. What sort of wife are you if you can't remember that?"

"You don't try very hard, do you?" sneered Austin.

"I've been a good wife to you, and you're always grumbling about something. You are so mean I have to beg you every time I want a new dress or hat. If people in town knew how you treat me they'd say I was mad not to get a divorce from you."

"Yes, you're handy at divorces, aren't you?" sneered Austin. "I wish you would get one. Get one, and good-bye!"

"All because you don't like your tomato soup," cried Jennie. "You think in terms of your stomach; that's what's the trouble with you."

"And what do you live for, in God's name? Haven't I enough burden to carry, marrying a convict's wife without..."

"He was a better man than you'll ever be, and I wish I had him back again!" cried Jennie.

"You'd better take him, then, when he comes out of the penitentiary. He ought to be out before long," sneered Austin.

Henry quietly opened the front door, tapped at the dining-room door, and entered. They looked at him for a moment in stupefaction. Then they knew him. Jennie started back with a cry.

"I came back here to kill you, Austin," said Henry, "but I've changed my mind since overhearing that nice little conjugal scrap of yours. Seems to me you've both got pretty well what you deserved, and it'd be a shame to spoil things. What's the matter with that soup? Get out of the way!"

He shoved Austin from the table, sat down, and tasted it. "Very good soup," he said, finishing the plateful.

He arose. "Yes, every one to his taste," he said. "I came here to repay you for your lies and trickery, Austin, but, Lord, you're not worth it. I've had my fifteen years of hell, and I'm going to leave you folks to stew in yours."

Why Silver Tarnishes.

There is always a good deal of sulphur in the air. Gas and coal gas add to it. This sulphur compound acts upon silver, covering the surface of the article with a black film, which is called sulphide of silver. When we polish the tarnished silver we rub this sulphide away, and at the same time we are slowly losing the silver itself. Silver is best kept bright in the summer if a cotton flannel cloth is kept handy and the silver article is given a brisk rub every two or three days. It will not need polish so frequently. This lessens the work considerably and prolongs the life of silver. Sometimes silver tarnishes very badly when put away in home-made cases. This may be due to some sort of sulphur compound present in the dye or bleach of the material. Therefore jewelers select materials free from such compounds when making their cases, and for this reason the silver, if kept in the cotton flannel cases, when stored away, will keep its brightness.

Beauty Supreme in "Singed Wings"

How would you like to be known as one of the most beautiful girls in Hollywood, Calif., where the world's most beautiful women live? For to be one of the most beautiful women in Hollywood means to be one of the most beautiful in the world.

For "Singed Wings," his new production for Paramount featuring Bebe Daniels and Conrad Nagel, Penrhyn Stanlaws, the director, demanded "twelve of the most beautiful girls in Hollywood."

Unusual beauty, not only on the part of the girls, but also in their costuming, was necessitated by the big ballroom set in which they took part for a scene in "Singed Wings."

This big set was so massive and so impressive and beautiful. In addition, Miss Daniels, in the moth costume created for her presentation of "The Moth Dance," added more beauty to the scene, which is easily one of the most picturesque ever photographed for the screen. "Singed Wings" comes to the Lyceum theatre Wednesday and Thursday. The story is thrilling.

Man's Answer to "The Sheik"

"A man's answer to Edith M. Hull's 'The Sheik.'" Such a line is inspired by the Paramount picturization of Arthur Weigall's novel, "Burning Sands," which is showing last time tonight at the Lyceum theatre. This is the powerful story of an English girl who seeks the man she loves and makes him love her.

A New Thought in Vamp Roles

A brand new idea in screen villainy must be credited to Estelle Taylor who has one of the principal roles in "Thorns and Orange Blossoms," the Gasnier production which will be at the New Park on Wednesday and Thursday.

For Miss Taylor, far from acting the accepted role of the screen bad woman, appears as one of the most attractive feminine players to be seen in recent pictures. It is only one who sought love triumphed. Wanda Hawley is the girl and Milton Sills the man, and there is a powerful supporting cast.

Wednesday Sees 1,237 Automobiles Shipped From Buick Plants; 131 Trainloads Since January 1.

According to figures released to The Flint, Michigan Journal today, Buick production, which has continuously broken previous monthly records since early last fall, reached a new high mark in the month of May in the building of more than 19,500 automobiles.

Further figures show that the greatest Buick monthly production prior to September last was 13,290. In September, production exceeded 15,000, but was made to look comparatively small the very next month when in excess of 17,500 cars were built.

New Daily Record

Average output for the following six months exceeded 16,700 automobiles per month, the top previous to May having been reached in April, with more than 19,000 cars. In this same month of April the record day's production of Buicks was achieved, 962 being turned out on April 17.

With May exceeding all previous production accomplishments, it is particularly interesting to learn that this early in June another Buick record has been smashed, shipments on last Wednesday, June 6th, amounting to 356 freight carloads containing 1,237 automobiles. The best previous day's shipment was on December 28, 1922, when 1,226 automobiles left the Buick plants. Since January 1, there have been shipped 131 solid trainloads of Buicks, 50 flat cars to a train.

It follows that local Buick sales records from coast to coast have been continuously shattered. How Buick has distanced the closest competition nearly everywhere is a story of figures that in many instances is startling. Case after case is cited where, from Minneapolis to New Orleans and from the Atlantic to the Pacific, Buick has surpassed at many points even the smaller low-priced cars.

Pres. H. H. Bassett Comments

How long will this great demand for automobiles, best exemplified by the call for quality cars such as the Buick, continue? President H. H. Bassett today had some timely comment to offer in answer to this question.

TALL CEDARS IN BANQUET, DANCE

Lake Region Forest No. 58 to Make Pilgrimage to Range Country
Friday Evening

BANQUET AT THE SPALDING

Dancing at Crosby Armory—Tall Cedars to Wear Pyramids and a Smile

Invitations have just been issued to Tall Cedars of the Brainerd forest, and their ladies, for a banquet and dance which will be given at Crosby on Friday evening, June 22nd.

Lake Region Forest, No. 58 makes a practice of staging several pilgrimages to the Range each year, out of courtesy for the many members living in that district.

The banquet will be held at the Spalding hotel, and is scheduled to begin promptly at seven o'clock Friday evening. Dancing follows at the Crosby armory.

The committee in charge, composed of Range brothers, includes R. Leslie Wahl, chairman, Arthur Nelson, Dr.
E. T. Lee, Bruno Almquist, Paul
Swanson, P. S. Nyhus and Victor Nelson.

The pilgrimage will be made by automobile, all those having room for passengers are requested to communicate with the scribe, and those who have no means of transportation will get in touch with the same official. Tall Cedars are instructed to wear their pyramids and a good broad smile.

STATE TRUNK ROAD IMPROVEMENT

Bids on more than $1,500,000 of state trunk highway improvements will be called for probably next month by the Minnesota highway department, Commissioner Charles
M. Babcock announced late Saturday.
The total may exceed $2,000,000, he said, but the department's fight against bonds for trunk route betterments will be comparatively successful nevertheless.

Although vigorously opposing some bond issues proposed for highway improvements now, Commissioner Babcock said he is more than ever convinced that state bonds must be issued to speed the highway program, stopping excessive outlays for repairs and giving the public bigger value for road money.

"There is no inconsistency in the department's stand on highway bonds," said Mr. Babcock. "It favors issues for needed improvements but is against those under the county reimbursement law which will encumber the trunk highway fund and put less needed projects ahead of the more important ones. Now that the 7,000-mile system is passable on nearly every mile, there is no justification for improving a stretch used by 200 vehicles daily ahead of one serving 2,000 or more. County bonds under the new reimbursement law to finance projects in reasonable order are being approved by the department but approval will be refused others."

About $1,500,000 of Trunk highway reimbursement bonds under the 1923 law have been sold or authorized by nine counties to date. Thirteen other counties are considering proposals for $2,000,000 more. But the highway commissioner has still to act on the majority of proposals, and his stand against parceling out trunk highway funds by counties against the spirit of the highway

plan for improvements in the order to best serve the public is becoming better understood.

First to take advantage of the 1923 reimbursement law, Pennington county has sold $90,000 of bonds. The proceeds are to be used on the Thief River Falls-St. Hilaire section of Trunk Highway No. 32.

Eight counties have authorized new reimbursement bond issues as follows:

Carlton—$175,000 for Carlton—north section of T. H. No. 1 and Cloquet-Scanlon section of T. H. No.
55.

Carver—$250,000 for Chaska-Excelior section of T. H. No. 12 and ChaskaShakopee section of T. H. No.
55.

Beltrami—$100,000 for Bemidji sections of T. H. Nos. 4 and 8.

Goodhue—$250,000 for Red Wing-
Lake City section of T. H. No. 3.

Meeker—$180,000 for Eden Valley-Litchfield-Greenleaf section of T.
H. No. 22.

Nicollet—$100,000 for St. Peter Norseland section of T. H. No. 22.

Steele—$250,000 for Owatonna-Ellendale section of T. H. No. 1.

Wabasha—$100,000 for Lake

City-Wabasha section of T. H. No.
3.

Of the thirteen counties with reimbursement bond proposals under consideration, eight that may issue
the $250,000 maximum are Stearns, Waseca, Sibley, Grant, Kittson, Wil-kin, Becker and Ottertail. Others with smaller authorizations remaining after other issues, follow: Dodge, $50,000; Traverse, $164,000; Douglas, $133,000; Pope, $152,000 and Morrison $50,000.

Were every county to issue maximum amounts of bonds under the new law more than $11,000,000
would be added to the state highway department Mr. Babcock said. But the highway department estimates that only about $4,000,000 will be used this year and next under the policy against encumbering funds for minor route betterments before the most necessary improvements are made.

State highway forces are preparing plans on several projects in advance of the contract letting tentatively scheduled for about July 25.
The state will make the contracts to get the benefit of wider competition among contractors than would be possible under the scattered county lettings.

Goodhue—$250,000 for Red Wing-Lake City section of T. H. No. 3.

Meeker—$180,000 for Eden Valley-Litchfield-Greenleaf section of T. H. No. 22.

Nicollet—$100,000 for St. Peter-Norseland section of T. H. No. 22.

Steele—$250,000 for Owatonna-Ellendale section of T. H. No. 1.

City-Wabasha section of T. H. No. 3.

Of the thirteen counties with reimbursement bond proposals under consideration, eight that may issue the $250,000 maximum are Stearns, Waseca, Sibley, Grant, Kittson, Wilkin, Becker and Ottertail. Others with smaller authorizations remaining after other issues, follow: Dodge, $50,000; Traverse, $164,000; Douglas, $133,000; Pope, $152,000 and Morrison $50,000.

Were every county to issue maximum amounts of bonds under the new law more than $11,000,000 would be added to the state highway department Mr. Babcock said. But the highway department estimates that only about $4,000,000 will be used this year and next under the policy against encumbering funds for minor route betterments before the most necessary improvements are made.

State highway forces are preparing plans on several projects in advance of the contract letting tentatively scheduled for about July 25. The state will make the contracts to get the benefit of wider competition among contractors than would be possible under the scattered county lettings.

Taken From A. E. Fredstrom Residence

THIEF ENTERS, NOBODY HOME

Bureau Drawers Ransacked, Jewel Cases, Pocket Books Were Rifled

News has just been given out of the robbery of the farm home of A. E. Fredstrom, south of the city limits which occurred last Friday afternoon. About $75 worth of personal property and cash were taken.

The thief must have entered the home about three o'clock, while Mr. and Mrs. Fredstrom were down town. A younger brother, Fred, was working around the buildings, but knew nothing of the robbery until he went into the house at four o'clock and found everything turned topsy-turvy.

The intruder left nothing unturned. Bureau drawers were ransacked, wearing apparel searched and thrown around the rooms, jewel cases and pocketbooks rifled.

After a careful inventory of the personal effects, it was found that the robber had made off with a new suit of clothes belonging to Mr. Fredstrom, his gold watch and chain, an Elk's locket and eleven dollars in cash, the latter picked up in small amounts in various rooms of the dwelling.

The police were notified at once, but have been unable to find a clue to date.

The spring term of the district court was resumed on Tuesday, with Judge B. F. Wright on the bench.

The criminal calendar is now being tried, the first case being that of the state against William Carol, charged with the sale of intoxicating liquor. The next case will be that of the state against Arthur Sartwell, on the same charge.

Both offenses are alleged to have taken place since the present term of the district court started, and the speedy trial is made possible through the new law passed by the last legislature, which allows for the indictment in criminal cases on information filed.

Good Work of Wireless.

Broadcasting, which has become almost a mania in England, has been applied to novel purposes in the last few days. At midnight the Manchester station sent forth an appeal for volunteers for a blood transfusion to save the life of a man dying in a hospital after the amputation of an arm. Within an hour four men arrived at the institution to offer their blood, but the patient had died in the interval. One of the volunteers traveled five miles. A few evenings ago a woman residing in a country town which has no telephone or telegraph service at night, was brought to the bedside of her son, who was dying in London. The woman's neighbors had heard the call sent out for her by wireless.

JUNE WEDDINGS ARE PRETTY ONES

Hall-Larsen

A very quiet but beautiful ceremony was performed Monday evening at the Methodist parsonage in Duluth, when Miss Elaine Larsen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Larson, and Charles Hall, both of Brainerd, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony.

The bride was attired in a gown of harding blue satin, with hat to match and carried a bridal bouquet of beautiful white roses and lilies of the valley.

Attending the bride was Miss Babette LeBerne, Miss Larsen's intimate and long-time friend, formerly of Fargo, but now residing in Duluth. She was gowned in silver grey canton crepe with hat to match and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Lionel Baker, of Duluth, acted as best man.

After spending a few days in Duluth, the newlyweds will motor to the Twin Cities, where they will visit relatives and friends, after which they will make their future home in Brainerd.

Both young people are well and favorably known in the city. The bride attended the Brainerd Commercial College and was later employed as cashier at the New Park theatre. The groom is employed in the local offices of the American Railway Express Company.

Tollefson-Johnson

At six o'clock Monday evening, at the home of Mrs. Lena Newgord, 1710 Pine street, N. E., occurred the wedding of Miss Gerda Christina Johnson and Soren Tollefson, of this city, in the presence of a few intimate friends.

The bride was attired in a dark brown canton crepe gown, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid wore a dark blue canton crepe gown, and carried pink roses.

GREGORY PARK WAS CROWDED

Collection of $50 Taken up by Rotary and Lions Clubs and Presented to Youngsters

Captain Kidd's juvenile band of Wahnkon played to an exceptionally large audience at Gregory park, Monday evening, receiving enthusiastic encores for each number played.

The players, all students in the Wahnkon consolidated schools, have had only a year's training, but perform on their instruments very creditably. The numbers receiving the heartiest ovation were two in which trombone solos played the major part.

A collection was taken up under the direction of the Rotary and Lions clubs, amounting to about $50, which was presented to the band. The program closed with the band members giving their school yell.

The Brainerd Lions club is making arrangements to have the Buxton high school band, of Buxton, N. D., play for a concert at Gregory park on July 26th.

This is a full concert band, of about fifty pieces, made up of boys and girls in approximately even numbers. This organization has been the winner of the annual North Dakota state high school music contests for the past four years.

The band travels in six large buses and camps along its route. Supt. Arthur R. Thompson of the Buxton schools is director. In addition to the regular band instrumentation, kettle drums and xylophone are featured.

GIANTS AND YANKS LOOK LIKE WINNERS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

Unless a couple of jinxes settle down upon them, the Giants and the Yanks should be in a position to figure how much money they are going to make out of the 1923 world's series before September is very long on the way.

Both the champion clubs got away and piled up leads that would make them favorites for their third straight pennants, even if there were some strong opponents in the field against them.

In the National League it is almost a cinch now that the Giants will win the pennant. John McGraw has a tremendously powerful ball club and the opposition that the west was expected to present did not live up to predictions.

The Pirates, from early season form, looked like the only rivals that the Giants had for the pennant and they apparently are missing something some place.

The Reds were a disappointment and the Cards, without Hornsby, will get no place in the pennant race. The Brooklyn Robins pulled a sensational comeback after a terrible start, but they do not look like a contending club.

While the Yanks haven't a team to compare with the Giants, they are running away with the American League pennant race.

All of the western clubs failed badly to live up to expectations. The White Sox were the biggest disappointment of the year.

The Cleveland Indians fell down and the loss of George Sisler ruined the Browns.

Ty Cobb has been troubled with an infield full of holes and his pitchers did not deliver as he expected them to.

Connie Mack's Athletics were the big surprise of the early season. They have a good young ball club that is going some place in a couple of years, but they are not ready to upset the Yankees this year.

With very poor secondary defense, the Yanks would be in a bad way if any of the infielders ran into some bad luck.

Mike McNally and Ernie Johnson are the only players Miller Huggins has to fall back on. McNally is a good ball player, but he is not strong enough to go through a hard season. Johnson may be a good ball player, but every club in the league, with the exception of the Yanks, waived on him when the White Sox put him on the block.

Gazella, a football and baseball star from Lehigh, has been signed by the Yanks, and he might step into stardom, but "Frisches" don't happen every day.

While major league club owners are willing to pay fortunes for untried ball players, it seems strange that Fred Merkle is still playing with the Rochester Internationals.

Merkle is batting over .400, and he recently batted safely for thirty-two consecutive games. He is a veteran player and a smart player, despite that "boner" thing.

The St. Louis Browns are desperately in need of a first baseman to take George Sisler's place, and the Cleveland Indians have not recovered from the mistakes they made in letting Stuffy McInnis go.

Merkle would look good on either one of those clubs.

It may be, however, that Merkle is satisfied with his present position and that he does not desire to go up to the big leagues again. It is understood that this is the case.

Rochester is up in the pennant race and has a good chance for the honors and Merkle is the biggest part of the team.

It seems that Rochester wants Merkle and Merkle likes Rochester. He has been "up" before, and he knows that there is little in it.

Patsy Haley was the referee.

Fight by Rounds

Round one: They exchanged light swinging lefts to the face. Villa swung hard lefts and rights to head. Wilde did not seem to mind the blows. Wilde poked straight lefts to the face. Villa swung two rights to the head as the round closed.

Round two: Villa staggered Wilde with a right to the jaw and savagely attacked the body. Villa hit Wilde at will. The little Filipino was staggering the champion about the ring with bows to the head. Wilde's swings went wild. Villa knocked Wilde to the canvas with a swing to the jaw after the bell had sounded and the champion was carried to his corner in a daze.

Round three: Wilde blinked his eyes and came out ready to fight. The champion's punches lacked steam. He bled at the nose. Villa evaded the champion's blows cleverly. They exchanged hard punches to the body in a neutral corner.

Round four: Wilde began slugging with the little brown boy. Wilde took the offensive. Wilde drove Villa to the ropes in a rush. Villa found him back with rights and lefts to the body and the champion was staggering again, but he fought gamely. Wilde landed an avalanche of blows to the Filipino's head, but Villa never blinked.

Round five: Villa landed lefts to stomach and jaw. They engaged in a heavy exchange to the head. Wilde's right eye bled. Villa swung heavy rights to stomach and chin. Wilde landed a stiff right to the jaw and the round ended.

Round six: The game little Englishman took heavy punishment on the body. A left to the face sent Wilde staggering into neutral corner. Villa rained blows to the body. Wilde protested against Villa's back-handed blows, but the referee said they were fair. Wilde staggered from lefts to the face. His face was covered with blood. He could hardly stand. Villa rained blows to his head. He fell into his stool when the bell sounded.

Round seven: Wilde staggered out. He could hardly raise his hands to stem the tide of Wilde's blows. He fought back feebly. His right eye was closed. The stubbornness of the Englishman kept Wilde standing.

After taking terrible punishment, Wilde, both eyes closed and swollen, dropped his guard. A straight inside right swing to the jaw and he fell flat on his face, unconscious. He was taken to his corner and brought to his senses after five minutes of hard work. He was barely able to lift his hand, but he smiled when the crowd cheered the announcer's statement that Jimmy Wilde was the gamest loser in pugilism.

Filipino Knocks Out Jimmy Wilde in Seventh With Right

New York, June 19—Pancho Villa of the Philippines, knocked out Jimmy Wilde of England, world flyweight champion, in the seventh round of a 15-round match last night with a right to the jaw.

A crowd of approximately 40,000 fight fans had gathered at the Polo ground when the first preliminary to the international flyweight championship match was called.

The opening bout, a 4-round affair, brought together Jack Snyder and Al Felder, two New York flyweights.

Harry Catena, New York flyweight, earned the judges' decision over Joe Donley of Newark, N. J., in the second preliminary, a six-round contest.

Charley Goodman, Brooklyn

featherweight, battled his way to a decision over Mike Ballerino, of the Philippines, in the third preliminary, a six rounder. It was a slugging match all the way. Goodman weighed 121½ and Ballerino 124½.

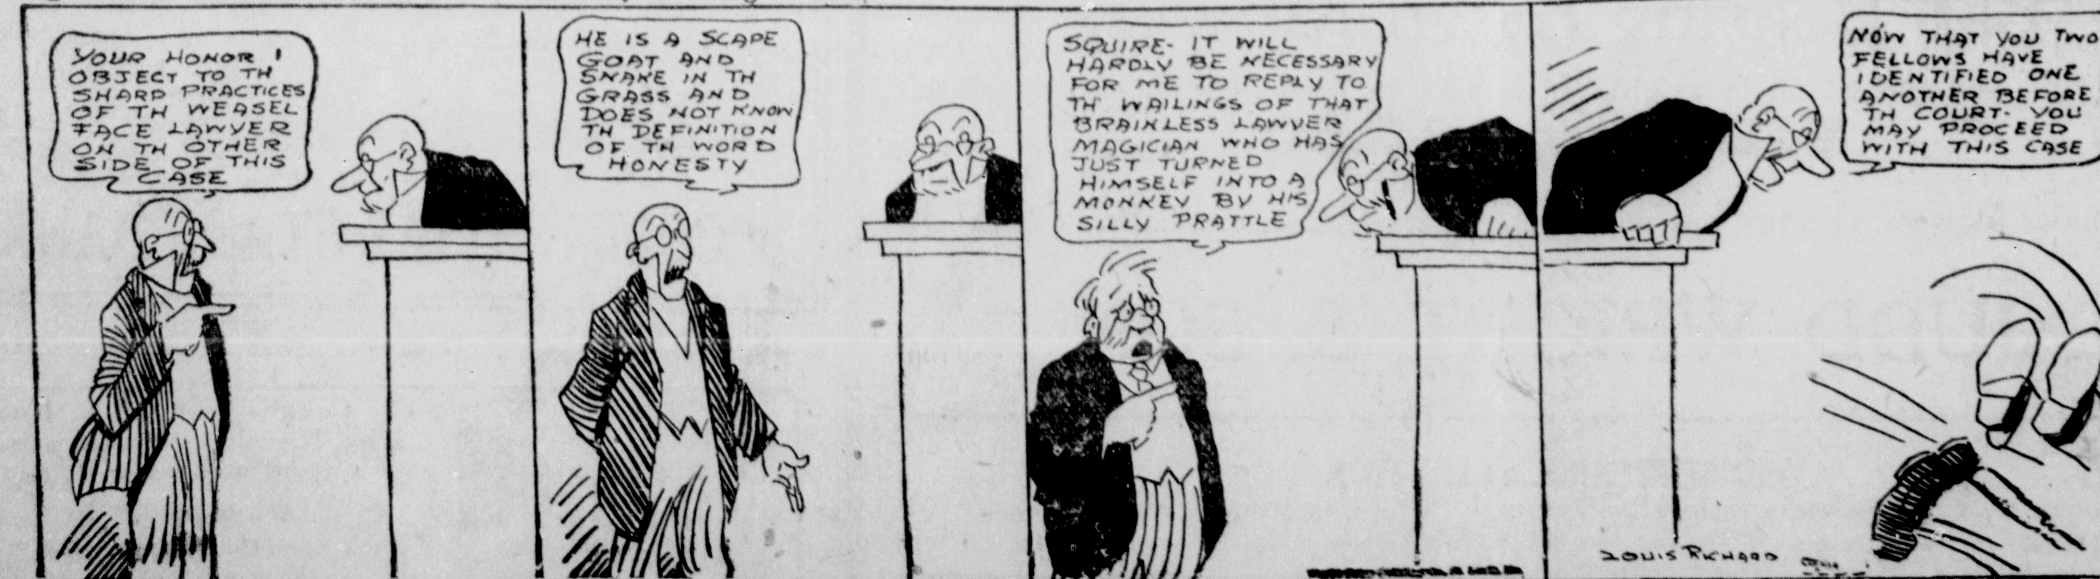

Carl Tremaine, Cleveland bantamweight and Harry Gordon of Philadelphia clashed in a 10-round semifinal. Tremaine weighed 117½, Gordon 116. Gordon outboxed Tremaine in 10 rounds and received the judges' decision.

Wilde and Villa then posed for a battery of camera men.

Frankie Genaro of New York, who won the American flyweight title from Villa several months ago, was introduced as a challenger of the winner.

Wilde weighed 109½, Villa 110.
